

Solah McClintoc Andrews called "Clint"
August 8, 1852
November 2, 1873

First child of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Andrews
Shelby, North Carolina

Solah McClintoc Andrews, called "Clint," was a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Andrews of Shelby, and was named after Dr. Andrews' teacher of Latin at the Philadelphia Medical School. He lived two years at Cut-off, Arkansas, 200 miles south of Memphis, Tennessee, and was a Deputy Sheriff there. One night he went about 12 miles to arrest a man guilty of a misdemeanor, and while passing around the house to enter, was shot through the body and fell mortally wounded. Mr. Baker, with whom he lived, provided an ambulance and removed him to his house. He stood the ride well but in a few hours his suffering began and after lingering in great agony, died the next afternoon, Sunday, November 2, 1873. He was born August 8, 1852.

At the early age of nineteen young Andrews had been compelled to fly from home, with many of his friends, to escape the bitter persecutions of which so many had been the victims--under false and malicious pretenses, being members of the Klu Klux Klan. He had been absent just 2 years and 4 months, and was looked for by his parents in the course of a month, with a view to entering college. In a letter to his parents, Mr. Baker represents him as a very exemplary young man, unusually esteemed by the small community of Cutt-off, Arkansas, where he had been appointed Deputy Sheriff during his exile. He was said by Mr. Baker to be liked by all and holding the highest rank in point of character among those of his own age.

Dr. Andrews, his father, left the eighth for the purpose of bringing his remains home and his funeral was held in Shelby a month later, and he is buried in the Andrews family plot in Sunset Cemetery at Shelby, N. C.

Flay Andrews

(Flaybanico Annifesto Andrews)

July 1, 1860

Flay Andrews, fourth child of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Andrews, Shelby, North Carolina, and uncle of Mrs. O. Max Gardner (although she never saw him) was born July 1, 1860 and died at 2 o'clock on a Sunday morning with tuberculosis. He had to leave his work in Abberville, South Carolina two months before he died--he also worked in Charlotte as a pharماسist in one of the leading drug stores.

He was buried by the Cleveland Lodge, No. 202 at A.F. and A.M. the Masonic ritual being read by Capt. J. W. Gidney, Worshipful Master, Rev. J. L. Scroggs, pastor of the Methodist Church, prayed and the pall bearers, members of the Lodge, were J. S. Wray, J. E. Martin, W. A. Wray, D. Dellinger, William Carroll and C. R. Doggett. He was a genial, cheerful and splendid young man with an attractive personality. He had a kind heart and was beloved by all who knew him. He died in 1887.

My dear Mr. Adams:

I have received your letter asking information relative to Jennie Adams and Benjamin Webb. Am sorry I cannot give you any information relative to the matters you inquire about.

It may be that I will be in Wilkes County some time in the near future and I will make inquiry there and see if I can get any information that will be pertinent to your inquiry. I am sorry that I cannot give you the information you desire.

Respectfully,

J. L. Webb

Hamrick Family

The founder of the Hamrick family in America was Hans George Hammerick who landed in Philadelphia with a shipload of immigrants from Rotterdam in 1731, where he drifted into Pennsylvania and reared a family, later moving to Virginia. Several years prior to the War of Independence Hans George Hammerick had three sons, Charles, Benjamin and George. After they became of age they migrated to North Carolina and settled in what is now known as Cleveland County, which was then Tryon and which was dissolved in 1779. The dissolution resulted in the formation of Rutherford and Lincoln Counties. From these Cleveland County was subsequently formed.

The three brothers were frequently called Hambricks, a "B" taking the place of the original "E". To this day it is not uncommon for persons unfamiliar with the name to pronounce or spell it "Hambrick." Changes in spelling continued to be made until we have the present spelling of our name.

It is safe to venture that the host of Hamricks to be found in Cleveland and Rutherford Counties today as well as those who have shifted elsewhere are descendants of one or another of these three brothers whose father was Hans George Hammerick.

Charles Hamrick, one of the three brothers, was the great great grandfather of the 6 brothers, namely Newton, Sidney, John, Leander, Alonzo and Wylie of whom most of us gathered here today are direct descendants.

Charles Hamrick had a son, Price Hamrick, who was the great grandfather of the 6 sons mentioned above. Price Hamrick was born in 1765 and died in 1822. He married Nancy Bridges and to this union was born and reared 3 sons, Richard, John and Moses. Moses being the grandfather of the 6 named brothers and the father of Street Hamrick. Moses Hamrick was born December 24, 1791 and died in August, 1868. On February 5, 1818 he married Sallie Robinson, daughter of Isaac Robinson, the Revolutionary hero who was then living in Rutherford County, North Carolina. Moses Hamrick's wife died in December of 1850. To this union were born 13 children: 8 boys and 5 girls. Among these was Cameron Street Hamrick, father of the 6 brothers already mentioned. Street Hamrick, as he was always known and designated, was born August 29, 1822 and died June 29, 1900. On August 10, 1843 Street Hamrick and Elmiry Bridges, daughter of Jesse Bridges, were united in marriage. The 6 sons were born to the union: Marshall Newton, Sidney Hull, John Calhoun, Leander Shephard, Alonzo Maron, and Wylie Cicero Hamrick.

Newton Hamrick married Adeline Holland and to this union was born Emma Hamrick who married Sam Andrews, whose children Sue, Beth, William and Robert are first cousins of Mrs. O. Max Gardner.

History of Formation of Cleveland County in 1841
and Shelby's Beginning

Names of men who had something to do with its beginning. 150 acres of land given for Shelby site by James Love in 1842. First Court Bell still in use.

(By Mrs. J. Frank Roberts, Shelby)

The Legislature of 1835 recommended that big counties be divided because smaller counties were more convenient for the people.

Then the people of eastern Rutherford County and western Lincoln County called a meeting of the citizens to discuss the advisability of asking for a new county. Following is a copy of the proceedings of that meeting, which was published in the Carolina Gazette and preserved in a scrap book owned by Mrs. T. J. Borders.

"A numerous assemblage of the citizens of the lower part of Rutherford County and upper part of Lincoln County convened at the dwelling house of Tentor Beam on Thursday September 22, 1836 for the purpose of consulting together upon the of petitioning to the next general assembly for redress of their greivances so long endured by reason of the extent of territory composing the 2 counties and the consequent remoteness from their respective court houses whereupon the meeting was organized by appointing George Cabaniss, Esq. chairman and William Roberts secretary. On motion Dr. W.J.T. Miller a committee of 6 from each was appointed to take the subject into consideration to wit: John Neil, James S. Oates, John Roberts, Robert Falls, Joshua Beam and William Graham of the part Lincoln County. Samuel Bailey, Yancey Reisendine, Thomas Roberts, Isaac Irvin, George Cabaniss, and William Covington for the county of Rutherford who reported that the secretary prepare a petition to be presented to the citizens of said counties for their signatures and October 6, 1836"

This was the real beginning of the new county.

On January 11, 1841 Dr. W.J.T. Miller of Rutherford County introduced a bill in the legislature "to form a new county from part of Lincoln and part of Rutherford counties." By the assistance of Hon. Michael Hoke and John Bunyon of Lincoln County the bill passed the legislature. The new county to be named in honor of Col. Benjamin Cleveland of Wilkes County and the county seat in honor of Col. Isaac Shelby, both of Revolutionary fame.

The first session of the county was ordered held on the second Monday in March 1841 at the house of William Weathers. This house was near the center of the county and at the muster ground where the militia regiments assembled.

The next meeting of court should

My dear Doctor:

Your very kind letter with the sketch of my grandfather, Rev. James Webb, received, and I want to thank you most kindly for writing me and sending it to me. However, Mr. Griffin sent me his paper containing this article about my grandfather. I have the sketch that Mr. Griffin sent me in my scrapbook, and I am going to give the sketch you sent me to my brother, Judge E. Y. Webb, as he told me, when he read it a week ago, that he was very anxious to get a copy of it.

I am exceedingly glad that Mr. Griffin sent me his paper, because it gives me information relative to my grandfather that I did not have. It was more than kind of you to think of me when you read it, and especially when you sent it in your letter.

I think you know more about the history of Rutherford County than any other man I know of, and I expect you have been giving Mr. Griffin much information which has made up several articles that he has written about the history of Rutherford County.

I was glad to read in your letter that your good mother spoke highly of my grandfather, and that she knew him well, and of your telling me about his renting a storeroom from your mother's mother in one end of the old Burnett hotel, or which was afterwards known as the Burnett hotel. I recollect all about the old Burnett hotel myself.

Wife and I also have pleasant recollections at Gettysburg, and we want to make it convenient some of these times in the near future to run down some day and spend a few hours with you and talk about matters that transpired in the long ago.

I would be more than delighted if you would come up and spend a day or two with me some time when I am at home. I have not been well for the past two or three months, but I am now very much better.

Hoping that you are well, and thanking you again for your kindness, and with best wishes, I am

Hon. Baxter Durham,
State Auditor,
Raleigh, N. C.

My dear Baxter:

Your very kind and, if you will permit me to say so, sweet letter, received a few days ago, and you don't know how I appreciated it. The sentiments expressed therein are fine, and while I have some doubt as to whether they are applicable to me, yet I am vain enough to think that you would not have expressed them had you not believed that they were so.

I remember your dear father so well that I often think of him and of his splendid scholarship and the love that existed between him and my father. They preached at many churches together, and your father was frequently at my father's house, and I always enjoyed being with him, and his brothers, Crawford, John and Plato, were my best friends. I was associated quite a while with Crawford in the newspaper business, and I loved him; and John was one of the most intellectual men I ever knew. The poor fellow died in Little Rock. Captain Plato was always a friend of mine when I was a young man, and I studied law under him before I went to Judge Pearson's law school. So I feel like your family are really a part of my family.

I wanted to meet your sister while I was in Raleigh, but I have not had the pleasure of seeing her right recently. I saw her singing in the First Baptist Church Sunday was a week ago.

Thanking you again for this letter, and assuring you that I appreciate the kind words expressed therein, and hoping that you will live a long time, I am

My dear Uncle:

I have not heard from you since 1928, neither have I written you. Are you still living, and if so, how is your health, and what are you doing, and how are all your family?

I am 76 years old and still on the Bench as a judge; but I have not been feeling well for several months. Had the 'flu.

My time will expire the last of this year and I am not going to be a candidate any more.

I often think of you and think of the time that we had together in Dallas, Texas, many, many years ago. I wish we could see one another before we pass. Can't you run out and see me?

As you know, Father and Mother are both dead, and I have no uncle living on my father's side now except you, if you are living. Please write me at once.

My dear Mr. Griffin:

I received on yesterday your paper in which you have written a very interesting article, to me, about my grandfather. I thank you very much for sending it to me, for I received some information that I did not know about.

I thank you, also, for the kind expressions relative to myself, and I assure you that I appreciate the write-up about my grandfather. Some time when I pass through Forest City I hope to be able to stop and have a chat with you.

I think you are doing a splendid work for Rutherford county in preserving some of the history of that splendid old county.

Mr. George M. Webb,
509-12 Woodward Building,
Birmingham, Alabama.

My dear George:

Your letter of February 11 received and noted. Glad to hear from you and to know that you are all well. Have not been right well for the past three or four months, but I think I am improving. I had a two weeks court which wound up Saturday evening at Wadesboro. I am resting this week and next.

You say that a party phoned you and offered $350 per acre for the 40 acres of land belonging to myself, Yates and Charlie's people. I talked over this matter with Yates, and he is inclined to think that the property ought to be worth $500 per acre. He suggests that I write you and tell you to see if the party will give $500 an acre, and if so we will consider it, and more than likely accept such proposition if it is agreeable to Charlie's people. I think they will do whatever we recommend. Suppose you make this proposition to the party who wants to purchase it, and write me and let me know and I will let you know at an early date after receiving your letter as to whether or not we will accept $500 an acre for the property.

I wish you could run out to see us. We have had a lot of rain and ugly weather but the last two or three days have been very nice.

Love to Mag and Charles and all. If I can make it convenient, I would like to run down to see you all some time during the summer. Can't you come here and spend a week or two?

Hoping that you are well, and with best wishes, I am

My dear Mr. [Name],

I have just received your letter of the 10th inst. and am glad to hear from you. I am well and hope this finds you the same. I have been thinking much of late about the future of our country and the state of our Union. It seems to me that we are passing through a great crisis and that the result will determine whether we are to remain a united people or become a collection of warring states. I believe that the only way to preserve our Union is by maintaining the principles of liberty and justice for all. I am sure that you will agree with me in this. I am, dear sir, very respectfully,

My dear Mr. Griffin:

Your letter of February 3 received and carefully noted. I thank you for sending me the paper which contains your write-up of the history of the newspapers of Rutherford county for the past hundred years. I enjoyed reading it very much, and it contains an item of information that I never knew of before, to wit: You state that my grandfather, J. M. Webb, was the editor of a paper in that county for a year or two during the years stated.

When I was at Rutherfordton Mr. Mark Dickerson gave me a write-up of the Becklers by you I think, which I enjoyed very much. I think you are doing a valuable work for Rutherford County, and I will think over the matter, and if I can give you any information in the near future, I will gladly do so. I have not been well, but am glad to tell you that I am feeling better and hope to be at myself again soon.

Thanking you again for your kindness, I am

LOVE

The Loves were in the French and Indian War and we find that Ephraim Love was of Penn. originally but came to Augusta County when land was offered there by the Virginia Government. He purchased 377 acres of land on the Draughts of Muddy Creek adjoining Daniel Harrison and date of same was July 22, 1748, he also bought other acreage of Jacob and Mary Dye in Rockingham County.

Capt. Daniel Love of Rockingham County, Va., December 23, 1774, was paid for army supplies as per court record, which consisted of
One Gallon of Rum
Four Lbs of Sugar
Four pairs of Harness, Paid eleven pounds and four shillings.

Prior to this however we find Daniel Love in Augusta County, and he seems to have had dealings sometime with the Tictom's for Dec. 5, 1754 in the appraisement of Richard Tictom in the Gap of North Mountain in Shenandoah land was sold by Daniel Love. In 1778 Rockingham County was taken from Augusta.

Daniel seems to have been a man of prominence as he was several times appointed guardian of orphan children. As early as 1755 we find him giving bond for the guardianship of Margaret Donelson, orphan daughter of Andrew Donelson and Ephraim Love was his security. That same year he was Administrator for James Hamilton. Augusta records Will Book 2 Pages 84 and 85.

Under date of Sept. 3, 1744 Margaret Adams of Orange Co., Va. made her will and in same she names as her legatee a son Robert Patterson and his son Robert--and his other children--Mary the daughter of Robert Patterson (evidently the son of an earlier marriage), her son Samuel Adams, her daughter Jane Adams Love, and her son-in-law, Daniel Love. Sept. 15, 1744 Jane Love and Daniel Love gave receipt for their part of the estate of Margaret Adams, widow of John Adams also deceased. There was quite a distribution of land on Linville Creek as taken up by Margaret the widow of John Adams, Samuel Adams the son qualified as Administrator--and Robert Patterson when he sent receipt was in Tryon County, N. C.
Ref. Will Book 4 Page 301.

May 21, 1755 Ephraim Love sold 258 acres part of a tract of 307 A bought of Jacob Dye. Ref. Deed Book 7--Pg. 75 Augusta Co. Ephraim was living in 1775 however when he witnessed a deed.

8-20-1761 Ephraim sold 204 acres to Wm. Hopkins located on a branch of Muddy Creek in Rockingham Co. patented 9-5-1749 by John Hopkins, and known as "Aaspe Bottom Branch." Deed Bk 8-Pg 531.

March 18--1763 we find Daniel Love and wife Jean or Jane sell to Jos. Dictum 255 acres on Cooks Creek part of 280 acres as granted to Daniel 8-(6-1756 but same was not delivered until April 1770.
Ref, Deed Book II-Page 525.

In 1768 Ephraim Love is noted as Capt. He was in a law suit with Elizabeth Inzer--and Daniel was a witness for Ephraim.

8-20-1771 Ephraim Love sells to John Quinn 2 tracks of land one of 53 acres on Forks of Cook's Creek patented to Daniel 7-20-1768 and 255 acres part of a tract of 290 A pate nt of 8-16-1746 adjoining the 53 acres.

This seems to complete the Love records here except a few who went to Montgomery County and possibly on to Tennessee.
Then you have the record in North Carolina but I couldn't find just where or when your ancestor went to North Carolina. But those old piôneers did not stay at home but were certainly travelers all right.

It is a well known tradition that Jimmy Love was a man of much influence, and opposed this movement. He owned many acres of farm land, in and around in what is now Shelby, owning practically all the land from what is now Zoar Baptist Church in South Shelby and what is now the heart of Shelby.

The County Commissioners accepted, on January 11th, 1843, a deed made to them (the Commission being named to locate the County Seat "at some point not over four miles from Thomas Wilson's mineral spring") by James Love, a tract of land containing 147 acres, "in consideration of the sum of ten dollars as well as for the further consideration of the many benefits and advantages which the said James Love expects to derive from the location of the town of Shelby," this deed was probated January 30, 1843, and filed of record February 4, 1843, in Book 2nd, No. 97th.

James Love was, therefore, responsible for the location of the town of Shelby on its present site. He was born January 6, 1796, in what was then Rutherford County, married Susan Ann Putnam, whose ancestors were English, having located in Anson County along with the Charles Love family, who were Scotch-Irish. James Love and his wife, Susan, were buried at Zoar Baptist Church Cemetery and the following inscription is on the marker:--

SKETCH OF CLEVELAND COUNTY & JIMMY LOVE,
WITH HIS RELATION TO THE TOWN OF SHELBY.

Cleveland County was created in 1841 by the General Assembly of North North Carolina. It was composed of a portion of Rutherford County and Lincoln County. All of the present section of this county lying west of the old County Line Road--that is the road running from the South Carolina line by the present County Home--was Rutherford County, and all the land lying east of said road was in Lincoln County.

Prior to 1841, James F. Love, Samuel Andrews, Achilles Durham, Eli Hoyle, Burwell Bridges, Charles Blanton and several other leading citizens, commenced a movement to create a new county, complaining that it was very difficult for the citizens living in this territory that now is Cleveland, to get to Court at Lincolnton and Rutherfordton, also that this area was being neglected.

James Love was a leader in this movement. The agitation for the new county was started by the Rutherford County people at a meeting held at Tommy Wilson's in 1838, who lived at and owned what is now Cleveland Springs and who had married a sister of James (or Jimmy) Love, the citizens at this time petitioning the Legislature to create a new county. At the same time, citizens of Lincoln held a meeting at the home of Peter Beam, near Rock Cut on the S. A. L. Railway, asking for a new county, which caused more agitation.

However, after the county was created, the question arose as to where the county seat would be located, and of course, this caused more excitement and much debate. There was one group that wanted it located at the point where the county home is now, which would have placed the town partly in Rutherford and partly in Lincoln.

and wisdom. His neighbors regarded his opinion very highly and came to him for advice and counsel. He was a very large land owner, with many slaves, and was also the owner of the only threshing machine in this part of the country, which was used regularly by the community.

He also owned and maintained on his farm lands the only harness shop in the county, therefore was called by some "a maker of harness" and was generally regarded as a man of wealth for that period. His farm was self sufficient as regards to supplies of food and clothing and other various household industries for his family and tenants. His house was large and rambling, the site being where now stands Duke Power Company on South Lafayette Street near Belmont Mill; a large spring being near by. The house had one extra large room where Jimmy and Susan always sat and had their family and friends around them. A large hall ran down the center with two rooms on either side used as bedrooms,--the old four poster bed that Jimmy and Susan used being now in the possession of one of their descendants in Shelby. (Mrs. O. Max Gardner had this and gave it to her son, Ralph Webb Gardner.) A back stairway led to the upstairs where the boys slept.

In the yard near the long back porch was the old kitchen, with its big fireplace for cooking and where Mammy Winnie and Uncle Joe presided, a trap door led to the basement where vegetables, fruits and food of all kind were kept. One large barn was near the house where the carriage horses and cows stayed, the other barn being a long distance from the house where the mules, wagons, etc. were kept.

The Loves were considered "good livers" and James Love was in fact a country gentleman. He and Susan had seven children, namely:-- William, Christopher (who had the unique distinction of having served his country in the War of 1812, in the Mexican War, and in the War Between the States, and lived on the farm now owned by Charles

State of North Carolina

In Equity

Cleveland County

To Spring Term 1861

To the Honorable the Judge of said Court

The petition of Thos. Wilson and wife Elizabeth Love Wilson, Plaintiffs against Tos. W. Sullivan Defendant all of Cleveland County North Carolina respectfully shows to your Honor that Charles Love of Rutherford now Cleveland County died sometime in the year 183__ intestate leaving him surviving his widow Fereby Love and the following named children, that is Elizageth, your petitioner's wife of petition Thes. Wilson Sew____, Charity Hendricks wife of Wm. Hendricks who is now a widow, Nancy, wife of Wm. Poston, John Love, James Love, Osborne Love, Sarah wife of Levi Miller, and Charles Love to whom his real Estate descended and your petitioners show unto your Honor that some Seventy-four (74) acres of his real Estate of which died schiezed and possessed including his dwelling house and mills was laid off by survey as dower in the year A.D. 1837 to his widow Fereby Love and that the same remains in her possession or in the possession of her assigns until her death sometime in the year of 185__ when it in fee simple vested in the above named children of Charles & Fereby Love, deceased, for a full and correct description of said 74 acres of land reference is made to Exhibit A, hereto annexed as part of their Petition.

Your petitioner Thes. Wilson sew____, further shows to your honor that he had become the owner of the several undivided Shares of Charity Hendrick, and her husband, Wm. Hendrick in his lifetime of Nancy Poston and her husband Wm. Poston and of John Love to and in the said 74 acres of land. The deeds and conveyances of which said shares are now in his propepire and will be produced to their Honorable Court whenever required. And also shows to your Honor that he is informed and believes that the defendant Joseph W. Sullivan has purchased and owns the undivided shares of James Love, Sarah Miller and her husband, Leve Miller, and Osborne Love in the said 74 acres of land.

Your petitioners further show unto your Honor that Charles Love one of the sons of the intestate, Charles and Fereby Love was so much advanced by his father Charles Love in his lifetime that he is not entitled to any share in his deceased father's real Estate and that the said 74 acres of Land belongs to your Petitioners and the defendant Sullivan one seventh part to petitioner Elizabeth wife of petitioner Wilson, Three sevenths of Petitioner Ths. Wilson by purchases from Charity Hendricks and husband Wm. Hendricks, Nancy Poston and husband William, and John Love deed that three sevenths of said land belongs to the defendant Thos. W. Sullivan by purchases or by assignments of purchases from James Love, Osborn Love and Levi Miller and wife Sarah Miller.

Your petitioners further show to your Honor that from the size and condition of the said tract of land it cannot be divided between the petitioner and defendant by actual partition thereof without great injury to them for the reason that the land is mostly or entirely cleared of and much of it worn out and waste and unfit for cultivation and that the same is valuable for a fine shoal and good water powers near the town of Shelby and well suited for the erection of saw grist and flouring mills or other machinery which cannot be erected unless by the owner of the whole tract of land which was laid off as dower to Fereby Love so as to include the shoal, the mills now rotten down; the creek and land of the creek only so much or but little more than was covered by water raised by the mill dam; the land apart from that about the shoal and that which would be covered by water from the erection of a dam being worth but little being mostly worn out and waste old fields.

To the and therefore that the defendant Joseph W. Sullivan, may answer the previous that the said land may by a decree of your Honor be sold on such terms as your Honor shall deem just and reasonable and that the proceeds of said sale may be divided among your petitioners and defendant according to their respective interests in said land and may be paid to or to them respectively according to and the course of this Honorable Court.

May it please your Honor to grant unto your petitioners the States writ of Subpeena together with a copy of their petition to be directed to and served on the defendant Joseph W. Sullivan commanding him to appear at their next term of the Honorable Court at the Court House in Shelby on the _____ Monday after the 4th Monday in March next to answer the previous and as in duty bound your petitioners will ever pray

A. G. Waters Sol. for petitioners.

The Love Family--
Some Notes and References

The Third Provincial Congress of N.C. met in Hillsboro August 20, 1775, which divided the state into six districts. The sixth or Salisbury district included the counties of Tryon,
Anson,
Rowan,
Mecklenburg,
Surry,
Guilford,
Burke,
Wilkes,
Montgomery,
Richmond,
Sullivan and Washington.

On Sept. 9, 1775, the Convention authorized the enrollment of one battalion of ten companies of fifty men in each district. These men were known as Minute Men. AMOS LOVE was first Lieutenant of a company in this district. (Griffin's Hist., page 26.)

---

DANIEL LOVE, of Anson County, was a member of the Provincial Congress which met at Halifax, April 4, 1776. This can not be the Daniel mentioned on page one, as his will was probated at July Court, 1755. (Wheeler's Hist. p. 85.)

Daniel Love is listed as resident of Moore County, N. C., in Census of 1790.

SAMUEL LOVE- Was the second steward of the Univ. N.C.. He came to Chapel Hill from Virginia. (Hist. Univ. N.C., p. 191)

Samuel Love had a son named William C. Love, a native of Virginia, reared at Univ. N.C., who was a student at U.N.C. 1802, but did not graduate--settled in Salisbury as a lawyer, and in 1815 represented that district in Congress. He died 1835. (See Wheeler's Hist. p. 391, and Alumni Hist. Univ. N.C. p. 377. Also, he was Trustee of Univ. N.C. 1814-1818)

ROBERT E. LOVE, Atty. of Salisbury, was Univ. N.C. Student 1830-32. See Univ. N.C. Hist. p. 376. (Since he was from Salisbury, I think he was a son of Congressman William C. Love of same town, and a grandson of Samuel Love who was second steward of Univ. N.C.)

Thomas LOVE-Refers to Gen. Thomas Love of Buncombe County (p. 473)
Thomas LOVE was one of three commissioners to establish line between N.C. and Ga., in 1807. (Battle's Hist. UNC. p. 182)
Thomas LOVE was also Trustee of UNC in 1821, from Haywood County. (Battle's Hist. pp. 280 and 352.)

Thomas Love is referred to as Col. Thomas Love, Surveyor. (See Battle's Hist. UNC. p. 38)
Thomas Love was Trustee of UNC 1809-1834. (Battle's Hist. UNC. p. 823.)

LOVE FAMILY OF CLEVELAND COUNTY:

I am of the opinion that the Love family of Cleveland County are descendants of AMOS LOVE, whose will appears on page 1. The county in which he resided is not given, but the date is 1773, when the will was probated.

Page 2 states that AMOS LOVE was a first Lieut. of a company in the Sixth or Salisbury District, which is confined to a list of Western N.C. Counties. Therefore, Amos Love probably resided in Tryon, Anson, Rowan, or Mecklenburg.

The will of AMOS LOVE list CHARLES LOVE as a son. This Charles Love was probably old enough to have served in Rev. War. Anyway, the records of Cleveland County show that Charles Love died 183__, and that his widow, Threby Love, died in 1861, and that a petition was filed in the court to partition his estate, etc. In this petition a list of the children of Charles Love is set out, and James Love is listed as his son.

The U.S. Census of 1850, and inscription on marker of James Love, show that James Love was born in N.C. Jan. 6, 1796 and died Nov. 15, 1875.

The will of Amos Love shows that CHARLES LOVE was the youngest of three sons, and it would be reasonable to suppose that Charles Love was just a young man when his father, Amos Love, died.

From the records it appears that one branch of the Love family settled at Wilmington, one in Western N.C., one at Chapel Hill and Salisbury, and Charles Love at Shelby.

A letter addressed to the Veterans Administration, Washington, D.C. would give abstract of declaration of these men for pension, which would give place of birth, date, parents, children, etc.

A LITTLE SKETCH DEPOSITED IN THE CORNER STONE IN THE NEW FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NOW BEING ERECTED IN THE TOWN OF SHELBY

Prepared by James L. Webb

The County of Cleveland was formed by an Act of the Legislature of North Carolina in the year 1841. It was named in honor of Col. Benjamin Cleveland, of Revolutionary fame. The Act of the Legislature establishing the County provided for Commissioners to locate the County site, and in the year 1841 the ground on which our beautiful little town is located was selected by said Commissioners as a County site for said County and the town was named Shelby in honor of Col. Isaac Shelby, another gentleman of Revolutionary fame.

Only two or three buildings are now standing which were erected soon after the town of Shelby was incorporated. James Love, a noble citizen who then resided a little more than one-fourth a mile from where the Court House now stands, donated to the Commissioners aforesaid the land for the town site. He also donated the lot upon which the old Baptist Churches were erected and upon which the new church is now being erected.

The Presbyterian Church in the town of Shelby was organized on the 19th day of September, 1858. The present Presbyterian Church was constructed in 1875 and since that time the congregation has been worshiping therein.

The Methodist church in the town of Shelby was organized in the year of 1845 or 1846. The first church constructed by the Methodist denomination in said town was on the lot where the residence of Mr. John Lineberger now stands. It was a neat wooden structure and remained there until about the year 1876 when the Methodist congregation bought the site on which the Methodist church now stands and erected a brick structure about the year 1878. About the year 1900 the said congregation had the structure which now stands upon said site erected. It is a splendid, handsome and well arranged church building.

The Episcopal Church was organized in the town of Shelby in the year 1857 and the first church was built on the present site in 1860, largely through the efforts of Mr. David Froneberger, now deceased. Said structure remained there until about the year 1902, when it was pulled down and the church on the lot now erected. The present structure was erected and built largely through the efforts of one of its now members, Miss Emma Frick.

The Baptist Church in the town of Shelby, now known as the First Baptist Church, was organized in the year 1846. I find the following in one of the Church records:

"Land for house given by James Love in 1846. James Love, a member of the church at Zoar, donates a parcel of ground in the town of Shelby for the purpose of building a Baptist church. During the year 1846 a house was erected, mainly by the efforts and liberality of William Roberts, Dr. Thos. Williams and David Warlick. Towards the close of the year 1846 Elder J. M. Webb, of Rutherford County, began to preach once a month in the new church to make arrangements for organizing a Baptist Church. The names of the persons willing to become members of said church are enrolled as follows:"

(I have not been able to ascertain the names of those enrolled.)

The first deacons of the church were J. R. Logan, William Roberts and David Warlick. William Roberts was the first church clerk. The building first constructed was a wooden one and painted white. It was a very comfortable building and seated, I suppose, from 200 to 250 people. It was heated in the winter by stoves. This structure remained as a church until about the year 1889 when it was pulled down and a brick structure was erected. When this church was provided for we thought we were to have a modern and beautiful structure, but the architect and builders of this building were not as well informed about their business as were the designers and builders of Solomon's Temple. It was ill constructed, not very beautiful, cold in winter and very warm in summer. The building of a new church had been talked of at times by the members for the past two or three years, but not until a few months ago were final steps taken for the erection of such a church. On the 7th day of November 1909 our present pastor, Rev. C. A. Jenkins, suggested to the congregation that in his opinion the time had come when the church should take action in the matter and on that day a committee of twenty-two of the members were appointed by the church to investigate and see if means and ways could be provided for the erection of a new building. This committee met soon thereafter and at its first meeting about Nine Thousand Dollars was pledged by the committee alone and all of them went actively to work and within less time than forty days the sum of about Thirty Thousand Dollars was pledged and subscribed for the erection of a new building. The soliciting sub-committees, appointed by the general committee, were very active and faithful and much credit is due to them for the raising of this splendid sum of money. I desire to state here that the most active and faithful and zealous sub-committee in the raising of this fund was a committee of ladies headed by Miss Selma Webb. As soon as the subscriptions were made the committee of twenty-two reported its action back to the church and the church unanimously decided that the committee should go forward and have a new church erected. Several architects submitted designs and after giving them all careful consideration Messrs. Wheeler & Sterne, architects of Charlotte, N. C. were selected and the plan drawn by them accepted by the committee and immediately thereafter the contract for the construction of said church, according to the plans and specifications of the architects, was made with Mr. W. Lee Harbin, of Lexington, N. C., who has the church now under construction. The building committee of our new church consists of Chas. C. Blanton, O. M. Mull, Marion Putnam, M. N. Hamrick, Rev. C. A. Jenkins and James L. Webb.

The committee of twenty-two referred to above are as follows: James L. Webb, C. C. Blanton, O. M. Mull, J. T. Bowman, T. D. Lattimore, M. N. Hamrick, J. R. Dover, A. H. Webb, Marion Putnam, E. Y. Webb, Geo. Blanton, Rev. C. A. Jenkins, J. H. Quinn, B. T. Falls, L. S. Hamrick, J. J. McMurry, J. L. Suttle, Geo. L. English, W. B. Nix, H. D. Wilson, A. P. Weathers, E. M. Beam, Paul Webb and M. A. Grigg.

The following are the names of pastors who served the Baptist Church in Shelby from its organization to the present time, to wit: Rev. James Webb, of Rutherford County was elected its first pastor on August 14, 1847 and served as pastor until Dec. 23rd, 1849. He preached in this church monthly from the time it was erected until he was elected pastor, as aforesaid. Rev. M. C. Barnett followed Rev. Webb and was chosen pastor and served as such until November, 1851 when the Rev. Wade Hill was elected pastor and served for one year. On Dec. 25th, 1852 A. J. Cansler was called as pastor and served until December, 1857 when Rev. T. Dixon was called as pastor for the year 1858 and was recalled for the year 1859. The second Sunday in February, 1860 Rev. Wade Hill was again called as pastor of the church and served one year. In December 1860 Dr. Crawley was called as pastor for the year 1861. He served as pastor of the church until the third Sunday in February, 1863 when Rev. T. R. Gains was called as pastor. He served until September 3rd 1865 when Dr. Crawley was called as pastor for the balance of that year. On the 4th Sunday in January, 1866 Rev. M. C. Barnett was again called as pastor for the year 1866 and served as such pastor until the close of the year 1870 when he was succeeded by Rev. N. B. Cobb who served the church as pastor until Aug. 11th, 1872 when he resigned, but continued to serve the church as its pastor till the close of said year. On the 4th Sunday in November, 1872 Rev. Wade Hill was again elected pastor and served as such till the close of the year 1875. Rev. A. L. Stowe was then chosen as pastor and served till the close of the year 1879. On Feb. 5th J. B. Richardson was called as pastor, but he declined to accept the call and the church was without a regular pastor until about the middle of March, 1880 when Rev. J. A. White was called as pastor and served as such until Aug. 26th, 1880. On Aug. 26th, 1880 Dr. W. A. Nelson, having been elected pastor, took charge as such and served until the last of September, 1883, when he resigned. The church was then without a pastor for a little while, but during this time Rev. R. D. Malery, who was at that time residing in the town of Shelby and was President of the Female College, served the church as pastor until Jan. 1st, 1884, when the Rev. B. W. Bussey was chosen as pastor and he served as such till Sept. 2nd, 1885 when he resigned. Rev. Malery then supplied the church until another pastor could be obtained and on Nov. 1st, 1885 Rev. W. H. Strickland was chosen pastor and served as such until about the 27th of June, 1887. The church was without a pastor again for a little while and the Rev. R. D. Malery on the 10th of Aug. 1887 was again elected temporary pastor and served as such until about the middle of November, 1887 when the Rev. J. M. McManaway was called as pastor and he served as such till June 1890. Rev. G. P. Hamrick was then called as pastor and served the church as such from the 1st Sunday in July, 1890 until Feb. 1st, 1892. He resigned and Rev. J. L. Sproles was then called as pastor and served until March 25th, 1894. Dr. J. D. Huffham was then called as pastor on May, 1894 and served until Oct. 1st, 1896. The church was without a pastor from that date until Jan. 22nd, 1897 <sup>Rev.</sup> R. F. Tredway was elected pastor who took charge on Feb. 28th, 1897. Rev. Tredway resigned as pastor on the 14th of December, 1902 when Rev. W. D. Hubbard was elected as pastor on Jan. 11th, 1903 and he served as such until Sunday morning Feb. 14th, 1904. On Feb. 24th, 1904 Rev. M. E. Parrish was called as pastor. His resignation took effect Nov. 1st, 1908. The church was then without a pastor for quite a little while. On the 21st day of March, 1909 our present pastor, Rev. C. A. Jenkins, was called and on the 31st day of March, 1909 he wrote us that he would accept the call, since which time he has been preaching to us faithfully. I make the statement unhesitatingly that no church in North Carolina has had pastors for the same length of time more able and consecrated than those who have served the Shelby Baptist Church since its organization.

The following are the present deacons of the church: J. S. Wray, C. B. Suttle, M. N. Hamrick, H. D. Wilson, J. H. Quinn, Geo. L. English, T. D. Lattimore and Dr. T. E. Hamrick.

We lay the corner stone of our new church this the _____ day of July, 1910. Let us hope that when it is completed it will be a beautiful, well arranged, and comfortable building and when it shall have been dedicated to God and His cause may the living church within

Biography

Mrs. O. Max Gardner, wife of the late O. Max Gardner, governor of North Carolina 1929-1932, and the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. James L. Webb, died _____.

Mrs. Gardner was born September 7, 1885, in Shelby and attended the public schools here. She was a graduate with honors from the Lucy Cobb School for girls in Athens, Georgia. She traveled widely before and after her marriage, having gone abroad four times and toured most of the United States.

When her husband was Governor she was considered one of the most charming and hospitable of hostesses, popularly known as the "First Lady of North Carolina," and also entitled "Citizen-at-large," benefactor of many charitable, cultural, religious and educational institutions and agencies. Her interests in North Carolina have encompassed the State.

She exhibited a life-long interest in politics, having been a member of the State Democratic Committee in 1929, a member of the North Carolina Democratic Executive Committee 1930-32, was delegate-at-large at two Democratic National Conventions, co-chairman of National Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, Washington, D. C., in 1950, and was co-chairman of President Kennedy's Inaugural Committee for the entertainment of the State Governors in 1961.

Mrs. Gardner and her family (Gardner and Webb) have been a vital force in the miraculous development of Gardner-Webb College. The Webb Administration Building there was dedicated in her honor and in memory of her parents and grandparents in May, 1961.

While living in Washington, where her husband established the law firm of Gardner, Morrison, and Rogers, and where her son, Ralph Gardner, and wife, still reside and is a member of the firm, they lived at the Mayflower Hotel. Her husband was in the Truman Little Cabinet as Under Secretary of the Treasury and was appointed Ambassador to Great Britain by President Harry Truman.

Mrs. Gardner was one of the most popular and beloved members of Washington Society. She was a life member of the Woman's National Democratic Club, being one of four Honorary Vice Presidents. She also belonged to the Colonial Dames Club of Washington, the North Carolina Colonial Dames of America, Washington Chapter, the 1925 F Street Club, and was a life member of the Y. W. C. A. there.

Before the death of her husband and more particularly since then, Mrs. Gardner has demonstrated her capacities in the business world and in community service. She was a member of the executive staff of Cleveland Cloth Mills at Shelby, and was owner and manager of business properties and farms. She was a director of the Gardner Land Company and President of the O. Max Gardner Foundation.

Mrs. Gardner was a Baptist, and a member since early girlhood of the First Baptist Church, Shelby, N. C. She was a member of the Building and Decorating Committee of the recently constructed educational building, and the Chapel is named in honor of her paternal great-grandfather, the Reverend James Milton Webb, the Church's first pastor.

Mrs. Gardner was a sister-in-law of the late Senator Clyde R. Hoey and a niece of the late Federal Judge E. Yates Webb.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Love Burgess of Naplewood, New Jersey; her son, Ralph Webb Gardner of Washington. Two sons, James Webb Gardner, died January 19, 1946, and O. Max Gardner, Jr., who died November 10, 1961.

Her six grandchildren are Gwendolyn Burgess of New Jersey; Mrs. Don Reilly of McLean, Virginia; Mrs. Suzanne Gardner Hayes and James Webb Gardner, Jr. of Forest City; O. Max Gardner, III, and John Mull Gardner of Shelby. Her three great grandchildren are Susan Reilly, W. H. Hayes, III, and James Gardner Hayes.

Her death is a loss to her community and to the entire State. She exemplified in her daily living the tradition of a Southern family noted not only for its political accomplishments, but for the interest of its members in community uplift, and the religious life, the welfare of others, generous to all worthy causes, and all things which make for congenial home life and the charm of graceful living.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church at 3:00 _____ . Reverend _____ will officiate, assisted by Reverend Marion DuBose, Jr. Burial will be at Sunset Cemetery in the family plot. The family asks that any memorial be sent to Gardner-Webb College, Boiling Springs, North Carolina.

January, 1959, on the basis of her outstanding representation in public service, politics, business, and her record of civic and religious leadership.

Gardner-Webb College "Citizen Citation," October 1959. Social and Civic leadership and Service Award. For outstanding achievement and service in the field of social and civic leadership and her interest in Christian Education.

Award from North Carolina Society of Washington, D. C., November 19, 1959. Complete Citation:

"Throughout her life Mrs. Gardner's interest in North Carolina has encompassed the State from the Highlands of the West to the Coastal Plains of the East, with the Sandhills and the Piedmont between.

"The range of her concern has extended from the welfare of hospitals, orphanages and other agencies of mercy through the sustenance and growth of the State's educational institutions to the development of the arts and sciences.

"She has given generously of her time, energy, knowledge and sustenance to foster, encourage, and endow humanitarian enterprises of every kind throughout the length and breadth of North Carolina.

"A host of admirers from her home state and elsewhere, now resident in the Nation's capitol, salute her as former First Lady of North Carolina as Citizen-at-Large, Patroness-Benefactor-and Friend of man."

Excerpts from tributes paid Mrs. Gardner when she received the above award:

"Her interests remain deep and far-flung."

"Young in heart and spirit...she has loyalty, sincerity, business versatility, business acumen, charming dignity, courtesy and sociability."

"She has a keen mind and broad understanding of human nature."

"She has carried on with fine zeal on a number of ambitious causes."

"The grace and charm that has always marked her has merely been mellowed and polished by the passage of the years."

"She is cordial, enthusiastic, human, natural, friendly, gracious, adaptable, radiant, dependent, understanding, intelligent and witty, zestful in life, an attractive personality--these are some of the descriptive words used by her many friends and admirers."

Honorary Degree from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C., June 4, 1961: Doctor of Humane Letters. Citation:

"Her gracious manner and sympathy and poise endeared her to many not of her acquaintance.

"For your distinguished public and humanitarian services, Mrs. Gardner, by vote of the Faculty and that of the Trustees of the University of North Carolina, I confer upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters with all its rights and privileges.

Woman of the Year, 1961, cup and plaque from the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Shelby, October. This award is given annually to a woman who has made unselfish contribution to her community, not only during the last year but over the years. In presenting this award Virgil Weathers said: "Whether in the presence of heads of government and finance or whether just among the natives of her own beloved community 'Miss Fay' is always the same. In my judgement her greatest quality is her capacity to simply be herself."

ANDREWS

Robert Andrews descended from Anthony Andrews of Leicestershire in England both 1539. He was knight and given arms in 1783. Robert had a brother John, and John is listed as John son of Edward 3-Edward 2- Anthony 1.

Anthony Andrews was born at Alexton and came to Maryland in 1654. His wife was Mary - sur name not given. They had the following issue John- Edward- Anthony- Thomas- Nathaniel- Elizabeth- Mercies (or Mercides)- Elizabeth- Marie.

Of the above John married Alice Greenhill and they had Moses- James- William- John- Thomas- Mary- Eleanor and Joanne.

Robert Andrews and wife Elizabeth had twins born March 7, 1778 and as they were a boy and girl they named them Robert and Elizabeth. Robert lost his first wife and then married Mary the daughter of Judge Blair but they had no children.

Robert Andrews other children by his first wife were Ann, Catherine and John.

Robert son of Moses and Letitia Cooke and a great grandson of John Andrews who came to Maryland from Leicestershire England in 1654 was born in Penn., and became a tutor for Mann Page which place he held for several years. In 1772 he was ordained to the ministry in London and was one of 13 clergymen to sign a paper drawn up by eighty-nine Burgesses May 27, 1774 recommending a General Congress. In 1779 he was made Professor of Philosophy in the College of Philadelphia. In 1784 he was changed to the Mathematical department of the same college. In 1778 he was made State Commissioner, and was also Private Secretary of Gen. Nelson of Yorktown, and this position he held while State Commissioner.

He married 1st Miss Ballard and 2nd Mary Blair.

Samuel Andrews seems to have wandered out to the South western part of Va. where he sold 923 acres of land located on New River and David and John Love were the buyers, Date 3-25-1797.

David Love also bought other land- 28 acres but with his wife Mary sold that as well as fifty acres of other acreage.

Samuel Andrews was on the Muster Roll of Capt. Phillip Love with a Company of Volunteers in 1770 then was a Justice of the Peace of Botetourt County, Va. Sept. 10- 1774, Colonel 1776 in Capt. Christians Campaign against the Cherokee Indians.

He moved first to Wythe County, Va. then finally went to Tenn. that part that had been cut off from N. C. There were 38 men from Botetourt who were in this campaign 8-7-1777.

HISTORY OF ZOAR BAPTIST CHURCH

by Gertrude Street--Historian

Preface

It was impossible to get a complete history of Zoar Baptist Church as many of the church records were not preserved. From 1874 to the present time 1930, I was able to secure some information from the minutes of the association. These greatly aided me in collecting facts pertaining to Zoar Church.

To our beloved pastor, Brother J. W. Suttle, I wish to acknowledge my appreciation for his kindness in lending me minutes for years above mentioned.

I also wish to state that the first part of history, its organization, charter members, etc. was copied from History of Broad River and Kings Mountain Associations, as given by J. R. Logan.

I wish to thank Mrs. S. W. Hughes, Mrs. A. R. Putnam, and Mrs. E. A. Street for valuable information received from them, they being children of William and Jennie McEntyre, charter members of this church.

Several years of church records were either lost or not preserved and the writer was greatly handicapped by not having these records.

However, I trust the following may prove valuable in the years to come, as well as interesting.

The home of a former clerk was said to have been destroyed by fire (S. J. Weaver) and several years of the church records lost by fire. It is to be trusted that the future records of our church life and work be preserved for the coming generations.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and interesting in the history of science.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. It is shown that the most plausible theory is the one which assumes that life originated from non-living matter.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence in favor of the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the evidence is very strong and conclusive.

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various objections to the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the objections are not valid and that the theory is well supported by the evidence.

5. The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various applications of the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the theory has many important applications in the fields of biology, chemistry, and physics.

6. The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various conclusions which can be drawn from the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the theory is a very important and interesting one and that it has many important applications.

7. The seventh part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various future prospects of the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the theory is a very important and interesting one and that it has many important applications.

8. The eighth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various conclusions which can be drawn from the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the theory is a very important and interesting one and that it has many important applications.

We found no church records from date of organization 1838 until 1876, making 38 years of church activities lost also years from 1887 to 1900-43 years. But we feel sure the church was at no standstill, as it has grown not only in membership, but all phases of its work has grown as we shall see by this short history.

We, therefore, submit it for what it may be worth, praying the blessings of God upon it.

HISTORY OF ZOAR BAPTIST CHURCH

(By Gertrude Street Gardner)

Zoar Church is situated in Cleveland County, North Carolina on State Highway No. 18, leading out from Shelby, N. C. to Gaffney, South Carolina about three miles from Shelby, N. C.

The name Zoar means small or little, as given in Gen. 19: 20-22--perhaps the reason the name was chosen was because of the few members in its organization, there being only twenty-five (25) charter members. (No one now living seems to know just why the name was chosen.)

The church was organized in the year 1837. Elder James M. Thomas of the Moriah Association preached several times at a stand erected for public service near the present Zoar Church with apparent good success, whereupon, several brethren meeting together resolved to build a house of worship, and solicited the Buffalo Church to extend an arm to receive members with view to the constitution of a church of the Baptist faith and order.

The church was soon thereafter erected and several persons received and baptized.

On the 7th of September, 1838, a presbytery consisting of Elders Drury Dobbins and E. M. Chaffin and deacons from the neighboring churches around was convened, and Elder E. M. Chaffin and wife, James Love and wife Susan Love, Elias Putnam and Nancy Putnam, Barnette Putnam, Ursula Putnam, J. F. Logan, Sarah P. Logan, Francis Adams, Cynthia Adams, Jane Hogue, R. L. Dogget, Ester Irvine, William McEntyre, Jemima McEntyre, Elizabeth S. Alexander, Robert Putnam, Susan Putnam, Mari Wesson, Lucinda Sanders, A. J. McBrayer, Willis Putnam and Elizabeth Putnam were constituted a regular Baptist Church of Christ to be known as name above stated.

Elder E. M. Chaffin was chosen Pastor and brethern James Love, J. R. Logan, and Roberts Putnam were ordained the first deacons, and J. R. Logan, Clerk of the Church.

The foregoing members were partly from Buffalo, Zion and Antioch churches.

Although Zoar is a feeble church she has enjoyed many revivals and many precious souls have been saved through her instrumentality.

The following pastors have served the church with much success: Elders Joseph Suttle, George Rollins, Thomas King Pursley, Drury Dobbins, Landrum Ezell, P. R. Elam, Bryant Bonner, Wade Hill, Thomas Dixon, J. H. Yarboro, D. Hilliard, W. W. Quinn and possibly Ransom P. Logan (?).

The years prior to 1873 is not recorded, as to no. of years pastors served; it is to be regretted however as we felt sure much and lasting good was done by their having pastured the "little Flock."

In 1873--Thomas Dixon served for one year. Elder Dixon was a zealous revivalist and successful preacher. Elder Dixon was the first moderator chosen to preside over the Kings Mountain Association.

He was the proud father of five children, three sons and two daughters, his eldest son, Amzi Clarence, assisted in a number of revivals at Zoar and greatly endeared himself to the people.

1874--The church was served by Elder W. W. Guinn. No one now living seems to remember much about Bro. Guinn, other than he was highly educated and well prepared to preach the gospel.

1875-1877--Elder G. M. Webb was pastor. He was an earnest consecrated man, having to labor under the disadvantage of a defective education, but he did not let this handicapp him in laboring for Christ as he baptized more than 800 persons into the fellowship of the churches.

1878--Elder Thomas Mullinax was pastor. He was a worthy minister laboring to do all in his power for the cause of Christ.

1879--1882--Elder J. A. White served with much lasting results with a number of additions to the church and many conversions during his pastorate. Bro. A. A. McSwain finished out the year of 1882 as Bro. J. A. White resigned on the account of ill health.

1883-1884--Elder R. N. Hawkins served. He was a goodly man and beloved by all.

1885--Elder James M. Bridges was pastor. Bro. Bridges was a true and consecrated man, doing all that he thought best for the upbuilding of God's Kingdom.

1886--Elder P. R. Elam was pastor. Bro. Elam was not only a fine preacher, but he was a great missionary and Sunday School worker.

1887--Elder C. F. Felmet served as pastor from 1887 until the year 1892--Bro. Felmet was a firm and consecrated preacher, having labored for five years with our church. Much good was accomplished during his pastorate.

1893-1902--Brother J. D. Harrill served the church for nine years, being a faithful and earnest pastor. He won many souls to Christ through his spiritual preaching.

1903-1912--Bro. D. G. Washburn served with much success. It was during his pastorate that the present house of worship was erected. Bro. Washburn was loved by his members, many precious souls learned to know and love Christ during his years of service. He baptized numbers of members who have gone out into fields of service for the master.

1913-1914--Bro. R. C. Campbell was the able and efficient pastor serving from March 1913 to June 1914 when he resigned to go into a larger field. The Church sadly lamented his going, but bid him God-speed in his new field of service.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of differential equations. The second part is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem are unique and that they depend continuously on the data of the problem. The third part is devoted to the study of the asymptotic properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem have a certain asymptotic behavior as the independent variable tends to infinity.

2. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem are unique and that they depend continuously on the data of the problem. The fifth part is devoted to the study of the asymptotic properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem have a certain asymptotic behavior as the independent variable tends to infinity. The sixth part is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem are unique and that they depend continuously on the data of the problem.

3. The seventh part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem have a certain asymptotic behavior as the independent variable tends to infinity. The eighth part is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem are unique and that they depend continuously on the data of the problem. The ninth part is devoted to the study of the asymptotic properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem have a certain asymptotic behavior as the independent variable tends to infinity.

4. The tenth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem are unique and that they depend continuously on the data of the problem. The eleventh part is devoted to the study of the asymptotic properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem have a certain asymptotic behavior as the independent variable tends to infinity. The twelfth part is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the problem. It is shown that the solutions of the problem are unique and that they depend continuously on the data of the problem.

1914-1915--Bro. N. K. Collins served as pastor. From Dec. 1915 to March 1916 Bro. J. L. McCurry, a true and noble son of God, supplied for the church until the church could secure a regular pastor, when Bro. J. W. Suttle was called. Bro. Suttle has served us faithfully since March 1916 to the present time, November 1930. Fourteen years he has labored with us, helping to gather many precious souls for the Kingdom of God.

Our church has made much progress during his pastorate. He having baptized one hundred and seventy members of Zoar Church and seventy-five (75) having been received into the church by letter during his ministry.

The church has also increased her gifts to missions and other causes, in fact, her system of finances is said to be the only church in the Kings Mountain Association, that is rural church, to contribute weekly to its support.

We attribute this largely to our pastor, he being a capable business man as well as pastor.

We are grateful to him for his fine leadership in finances, as well as for his spiritual guidance.

While many of us may not have been as loyal to our church and pastor, we pray God may give him strength and courage to lead us on to nobler and higher things, in the name and for the sake of Christ who died for us.

We feel sure we have not given praise nor credit due these former pastors, owing to lack of information, but we trust the Heavenly Father will bless them and reward them according to their works.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

In the second part of the paper, the author discusses the problem of the structure of the nucleus. It is shown that the structure of the nucleus is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the problem of the structure of the molecule. It is shown that the structure of the molecule is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

In the fourth part of the paper, the author discusses the problem of the structure of the crystal. It is shown that the structure of the crystal is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The following have served the church most faithfully as Clerk of the Church:--J. R. Logan was the church's first clerk, he having been a man with splendid educational advantages and he was also a very fine Christian gentleman. P. D. Wilson, Jacob Hogue, S. W. Hughes, M. O. McEntyre, S. J. Weaver were the church's earlier clerks, possibly others served whose names could not be remembered by the older church members now living. J. P. Humphries, C. A. Morrison, S. B. Hamrick and the present clerk, Gertrude Street.

A few outstanding deacons who helped make the church life prosper were J. R. Logan, S. E. Bostic, M. O. McEntyre, J. L. McCurry and possibly others who have already laid down their life work here, and gone on to that Heavenly Home, not made with hands.

Bro. S. E. Bostic, Father of the noted Baptist missionaries, was said to have been one of the church's outstanding deacons of his day, always working for the good of the church and striving for strict discipline, which he urged to be carried out. Members during his lifetime were cited for non attendance, drinking alcoholic liquors and other things of sinfulness that Christians ought not to indulge in.

Miss Attie T. Bostic, now a missionary to China, was once a member of Zoar Church in fact, was baptized here and no doubt heard the call to go to a foreign land to tell those who know it not of Christ and his great love for us.

The church has had many of her fine young men and women to go out into fields of service, some have made teachers, singers and religious workers of which the church is justly proud.

Since the organization of Zoar Church, four houses of worship have been erected, the first a log house; next was the old log house remodeled into a long wooden building; next in 1884 a nice new house of worship was erected which served and housed the people well, until 1904 when the present house of worship was erected.

The Kings Mountain Association has been entertained there twice since her organization in the year of 1860, when Zoar was termed the "Peace-maker," asking the Association and churches who had had previous misunderstandings concerning the Temperance question and had withdrawn from the body if it would not be conducive to the interests of religion, and the general cause of Christ within the bounds of the Kings Mountain Association, for said body to labor with and if possible, take such measures as may be calculated to restore harmony and fellowship with those churches, once constituent members of the Association, who probably by reason of an honest difference of opinion on the Subject of Temperance, have seceded from the body?"

The answer the committee prepared and handed up was in the affirmative, and this, Zoar was termed the "Peace-maker" of the churches, who were at a misunderstanding.

Zoar Church was at one time a member of the Broad River Association, for how long we are not certain, but it was in the year of 1851 Zoar Church with a number of other churches was dismissed from the Broad River Association to form another association, which was organized at Double Springs Church on November 7, 1851 and was named the Kings Mountain Association.

The Association grew in numbers and again in the year of 1904, Zoar Church was hostess to this large body of Christian workers, the new church house of worship having been completed.

The old church house having been sold to the County School Board for school purposes for the sum of $400 and school sessions were taught in this building from 1904 to 1911 when the County School Board erected a new building in South Shelby and consolidated Zoar School with South Shelby.

We find the church has grown along the lines of its financial system; in 1875, we find on our record where Zoar gave $5.00 for State Missions, she then had 128 members, pastor's salary was not given in the minutes, but we find on the records where Zoar has been taking our Association minutes since the year of 1876 and she has contributed for minute fund in the last 54 years $85.44. She has given around $3000 for schools and Christian Education, orphanage $636.66--Missions $6000--poor and Benevolences $1,480, and she has paid for pastor's salary since 1883 around $10,000, for building and repairs--$3412.92-- For missions, orphanage, schools and Christian Education she has contributed since 1878 $9,784.66--home. Total for all objects, $13,646.36, making a grand total of $23,431.02 in the past 55 years. These figures merely give the approximate amounts given, as we feel certain all items to which the church contributed were not recorded, and we only gave these figures to show how the church had increased in her gifts since 1875.

Some of us may think the amount given comparatively small as to the gifts of today, but when we take into consideration how our Baptist work has grown since 1800, we then feel proud of what our predecessors have done to advance and promote the denominational causes.

Our Sunday School has also advanced in its activities. We find on record in 1882 number of scholars 30--average attendance 20-- Number papers or quarterlies taken 25--Contributions $14.40. Let us compare these figures with present day--1930--Number of scholars 195-- Average attendance-106--Contributions for upkeep of Sunday School and

B.Y.P.U. $72.09. She has increased in number of officers and teachers from 5 to 16. We may think the gain in attendance, etc. small, but when we take into consideration the nearby churches, which a number of them having been erected since Zoar was organized, we see that these churches later organized, have profited by us, since they gained quite a few of our members, but happy are we to give out to others those who have been regenerated.

ZOAR BAPTIST CHURCH

Attachment 17--By Anson G. Melton, Research Editor--Historical Records Survey, August 28, 1940

Zoar Baptist Church is located in No. 6 Township on Highway No. 18 leading from Shelby to Gaffney, S. C., being about 3 miles south of the town of Shelby, Cleveland County, N. C. This church was organized in 1837 according to a sketch of the church by Mrs. Gertrude Street Gardner.

Here is what Mrs. Gardner has to say about previous buildings: "Since the organization of Zoar Church, four houses of worship have been erected, the first a log house, next was the old log house remodeled into a long wooden building. Next in 1884 a nice new house of worship was erected which served and housed the people well, until 1904 when the present house was erected." This building, the people say, was brick veneered in 1933 as the building now stands. The present building is said to be about 32 by 42 (corrected 40 by 60), with nine rooms, the Sunday School Department being in the basement. The church has a bell on the outside of the church. Pianos are used. The church has plain windows indicating a trend toward Gothic architecture.

At first Zoar church was a member of Broad River Association, but became a member of the Kings Mountain Baptist Association at the organization of said Association November 7, 1851. The church has entertained the Association twice in its history--once in the year 1865, notably Civil War days. The church is now a member of the Kings Mountain Baptist Association.

The following pastors have served the church during its worthy history--Rev. E. M. Chaffin, first pastor (See History for others) and Rev. Rush Padgett, present Pastor (1940).

There were 25 charter members as follows:--Elder E. M. Chaffin and wife Susan Chaffin, James Love, Susan Love, Elias Putnam, Nancy Putnam, (See other pages for others).

The first deacons of Zoar Baptist Church were James Love, J. R. Logan, and Roberts Putnam. The first church clerk was J. R. Logan.

From this small beginning the church has grown to a membership of about 370 with a Sunday School enrollment of 252. The present building will probably seat 500 people, costing about $8000.00 and is out of debt. This building was finished in 1933.

The present board of deacons is composed of the following persons: C. L. Hollifield, chairman, Burt McSwain, Everett Hollofield, Robert Rippy, Clyde Putnam, Cecil Humphries, Kenneth Hollifield and C. C. Allen. Mrs. Gertrude Street Gardner is the present church clerk. Miss Helen Warren is church secretary. Mr. Lyman Humphries is the present Sunday School Superintendant, while Ruth Putnam is Secretary of Sunday School.

Mr. Fate Warren, born December 20, 1859 has been sexton of Zoar Church for about 17 years. We deem his faithfulness worthy of mention in this sketch.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket I had been sitting under. I looked up at the sky, which was a pale, overcast grey. The air was thick with a damp, earthy smell, and the ground beneath my feet was wet and slippery. I took a deep breath, trying to clear my head, but the cold seemed to seep into my lungs. I walked a few steps, my boots crunching on the wet pavement. The sound was rhythmic, almost soothing, but it was also a reminder of the harsh weather. I glanced at my watch, noting the time. It was late in the afternoon, and the sun had long since disappeared behind the clouds. I felt a sense of isolation, as if I were the only person in the world. The streets were empty, and the only sounds were the distant hum of traffic and the occasional rustle of leaves. I continued to walk, my mind wandering to the thoughts that had been plaguing me since I had left the car. The cold was a metaphor for the emptiness I felt inside. I wanted to feel something, anything, to break the silence that had taken hold of me. I looked down at my hands, which were numb from the cold. I rubbed them together, trying to generate some warmth. The friction of my palms against each other was a small comfort, but it did little to dispel the chill. I stopped for a moment, leaning against a tree trunk. The bark was rough and textured, providing a different kind of tactile sensation. I closed my eyes, feeling the cool air against my face. In that moment, I felt a sense of peace, a temporary respite from the chaos of my thoughts. But the cold was still there, a constant reminder of the world outside. I straightened up, shaking my head. I had to keep moving, to find a way to escape the cold. I took a few more steps, my boots still crunching on the wet pavement. The cold was a challenge, but it was also a test. I knew I was capable of enduring it, of pushing through the discomfort. I felt a surge of determination, a fire burning in my chest. I would not let the cold win. I would keep walking, until I found a way to break the silence and feel the warmth of the sun once more.

Rev. Rush Padgett, present pastor, was born in Shelby, N. C. November 25, 1891--received his training at Boiling Springs High School, Carson Newman College, Jefferson City, Tennessee and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, including a short course at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, Texas.

It is to be regretted that the minutes of Zoar Baptist Church were destroyed by fire when the home of Mrs. Gertrude Street Gardner was burned January 9, 1940. This same accident happened once before while S. J. Weaver was clerk. However, the church is fortunate in having a short sketch preserved by the present clerk. The historical sketch is temporarily now in the hands of the Rev. J. W. Suttle, a former pastor.

SKETCH OF CLEVELAND COUNTY AND JIMMY LOVE
WITH HIS RELATION TO THE TOWN OF SHELBY

% Cleveland County was created in 1841 by the General Assembly of North Carolina. It was composed of a portion of Rutherford County and Lincoln County. All of the present section of this county lying west of the old County Line Road--that is the road running from the South Carolina line by the present County Home--was in Rutherford County, and all the land lying east of said road was in Lincoln County.

Prior to 1841, James F. Love, Samuel Andrews, Achilles Durham, Eli Hoyle, Burwell Bridges, Charles Blanton and several other leading citizens commenced a movement to create a new county, complaining that it was very difficult for the citizens living in this territory that now is Cleveland, to get to Court at Lincolnton and Rutherfordton, also that this area was being neglected.

James Love was a leader in this movement. The agitation for the new county was started by the Rutherford County people at a meeting held at Tommy Wilson's in 1838, who lived at and owned what is now Cleveland Springs and who had married a sister of James (or Jimmy) Love, the citizens at this time petitioning the Legislature to create a new county. At the same time, citizens of Lincoln held a meeting at the home of Peter Beam, near Rock Cut on the S.A.L. Railway, asking for a new county, which caused much agitation.

However, after the county was created, the question arose as to where the county seat would be located, and of course this caused more excitement and much debate. There was one group that wanted it to be located at the point where the county home is now, which would have placed the town partly in Rutherford and partly in Lincoln.

It is a well known tradition that Jimmy Love was a man of much influence, and opposed this movement. He owned many acres of farm land in and around in what is now Shelby, owning practically all the land from what is now Zoar Baptist Church in South Shelby to what is now the heart of Shelby.

The County Commissioners accepted, on January 11, 1843, a deed made to them (the Commission being named to locate the county seat "at some point not over four miles from Thomas Wilson's mineral spring") by James Love, a tract of land containing 147 acres "in consideration of the sum of ten dollars as well as for the further consideration of the many benefits and advantages which the said James Love expects to derive from the location of the town of Shelby." This deed was probated January 30, 1843 and filed of record February 4, 1843 in Book 2nd, No. 97th.

James Love was, therefore, responsible for the location of the town of Shelby on its present site. He was born January 6, 1796 in what was then Rutherford County, married Susan Ann Putnam, whose ancestors were English, having located in Anson County along with the Charles Love family, who were Scotch Irish.

James Love and his wife, Susan, are buried at Zoar Baptist Church cemetery and the following inscription is on his marker:--

Peace to a good man's ashes

James Love
Born
January 6, 1796
Died
November 15, 1878

Blessed are the dead
who die in the Lord and their works do follow them.

He was a deacon in this church, and reported to have been a very active member and generous toward every cause.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the success of any business and for the protection of the interests of all parties involved. The author argues that without accurate records, it is impossible to make informed decisions or to identify areas for improvement.

2. The second part of the paper describes the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It discusses the advantages and disadvantages of different techniques, such as surveys, interviews, and focus groups. The author also explains how data can be used to identify trends and patterns, and how this information can be used to develop effective strategies.

3. The third part of the paper focuses on the importance of communication in the business world. It discusses the role of communication in building relationships, resolving conflicts, and promoting collaboration. The author argues that effective communication is a key skill for any professional, and that it is essential for the success of any organization.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the importance of ethics in the business world. It discusses the various ethical issues that businesses face, such as corruption, fraud, and discrimination. The author argues that businesses have a responsibility to act ethically, and that this responsibility is essential for the long-term success of the organization.

5. The fifth part of the paper discusses the importance of innovation in the business world. It discusses the various factors that can lead to innovation, such as a strong culture of innovation, a supportive management team, and a focus on research and development. The author argues that innovation is essential for the success of any organization in a competitive market.

6. The sixth part of the paper discusses the importance of sustainability in the business world. It discusses the various ways in which businesses can promote sustainability, such as by reducing their carbon footprint, using renewable energy, and supporting local communities. The author argues that sustainability is essential for the long-term success of any organization.

7. The seventh part of the paper discusses the importance of leadership in the business world. It discusses the various qualities and skills that are essential for effective leadership, such as vision, communication, and decision-making. The author argues that effective leadership is essential for the success of any organization.

8. The eighth part of the paper discusses the importance of teamwork in the business world. It discusses the various factors that can lead to effective teamwork, such as clear communication, shared goals, and mutual respect. The author argues that effective teamwork is essential for the success of any organization.

9. The ninth part of the paper discusses the importance of customer service in the business world. It discusses the various ways in which businesses can improve their customer service, such as by listening to customer feedback, providing personalized service, and resolving complaints quickly. The author argues that excellent customer service is essential for the success of any organization.

10. The tenth part of the paper discusses the importance of financial management in the business world. It discusses the various ways in which businesses can manage their finances effectively, such as by creating a budget, monitoring expenses, and seeking out opportunities for growth. The author argues that effective financial management is essential for the success of any organization.

He was a man of quiet dignity, possessing poise and assurance, with a capacity for foresight and wisdom. His neighbors regarded his opinion very highly and came to him for counsel and advice. He was a very large land owner, with many slaves and was also the owner of the only threshing machine in this part of the country, which was used regularly by the community.

He also owned and maintained on his farm lands the only harness shop in the county and was generally regarded as a man of wealth for that period. His farm was self-sufficient as regards to supplies of food and clothing and other various household industries for his family and tenants.

His house was large and rambling, the site being where now stands the Power Company on South Lafayette Street near Belmont Mill; a large spring being near by. The house had one extra large room where Jimmy and Susan always sat and had their family and friends around them. A large hall ran down the center with two rooms on either side used as bedrooms, the old four poster bed that Jimmy and Susan used being now in the possession of one of their descendants in Shelby. A back stairway led to the upstairs where the boys slept.

In the yard near the long back porch was the old kitchen, with its huge fireplace for cooking, and where Mammy Winnie and Uncle Joe presided. A trap door led to the basement, where vegetables, fruits, and food of all kinds were stored.

One large barn was near the house where the carriage horses and cows stayed, the other barn being a long distance from the house where the mules, wagons, etc. were kept.

The Loves were considered "good livers" and James Love was , in fact, a country gentleman.

He and Susan had seven children, namely:--William, Christopher (who had the unique distinction of having served his country in the War of 1812, in the Mexican War, and in the War Between the States and lived on the farm now owned by Charles Morrison in South Shelby), Pattie, Sallie, Nelson, and Susan Ann, who married Dr. William P. Andrews. The latter's descendants who are now living in Shelby are William and Robert Andrews and their families, Miss Sue Andrews, DeWitt Quinn and family, Mrs. Madge Webb Riley and Mrs. O. Max Gardner and her family.

Wednesday, June 1st, 1881. Arrived at 10:30 AM. The weather was very hot and sunny.

Spent the day in the city. Visited the various museums and galleries. The collection of natural history is very extensive. The botanical garden is also very fine. In the evening, attended a concert at the opera house. The performance was very good. The orchestra was particularly well played. The vocalists were also of high quality. The plot of the opera was very interesting. The costumes were very beautiful. The lighting was also very good. The overall impression was a very good one. I enjoyed the evening very much.

(Samuel Osborn Andrews was a grandson of James Love.)

On April 24, 1885 Dr. William P. Andrews wrote a letter to his son Sam who was in school (Moore's Business University) Atlanta, Ga. In it he says, I quote: "Dr. Miller and I have not settled yet. So he has not paid me your part of the Love Estate." Dr. Miller lived on the corner of South Washington and Grigg Streets (later John Black home). He could have bought this property from Love estate.

Kansas Andrews Webb and Orwell Andrews Quinn, granddaughters of James Love, owned lots extending from L. A. Gettys home to alley, where Alexander and Gee homes are now (1949). These lots extended from South Washington to South Lafayette Street.

Betsy Sallie Love Alexander (Mrs. Peter) who later married Hosea Hallman owned lots extending from Loy Apts. South Washington Street to Grigg Street also extending through to South Lafayette Street (was old ball park in early part of 1900's).

On May 1, 1887 Dr. W. P. Andrews wrote a letter to his son Sam who was living in Hooks, Texas. I quote: "Shelby moving on as usual. Some small cottages building. No important buildings going up except the cotton factory (Belmont Mill) being erected by Miller Brothers, Burwell Blanton and Rush Oats. This building is being put up just to the right of the old guano house south of town on one of the Frank Love lots."

Frank Love was grandson of James Love. He was son of James Ingram who was killed in the Mexican War.

Old newspapers, from persons, from his father, etc.

It was full 250 years after Columbus came that the white man first beheld the beauty of the Catawba Valley and the hills to the west of it. When counties were first organized on the sea coast their western boundaries reached to the Mississippi River, which was British frontier. Thus New Hanover, established in 1728, included all the wilderness to the west, until Bladen, organized in 1734, fell heir to it.

Later Anson, formed in 1749, embraced all the western country until Rowan in 1753 and Mecklenburg in 1762 absorbed that territory. In 1769 Tryon County named for the Royal Governor, William Tryon, was established and included all the territory west of the Catawba River except the section north of the Earl Granville line which was attached to Rowan until absorbed by Burke in 1777.

It is claimed by some that Henry Weidner (Whitener) came from Pennsylvania in 1742, while the Colonial Record states that he came about 1745.

Judge M. L. McCorkle at a memorial service held at the original Weidner home in Catawba County, May 30, 1884, stated that Henry Weidner, John Perkins, several Robinsons and others, came to Sherrill's Ford with Adam Sherrill, the pioneer and the tradition is that Sherrill with his eight sons in company with John Perkins, the Robinsons, Weidners and others, crossed the Catawba River at Sherrill's Ford in 1747.

John Beatty's land grant bears date, July 1749. The Weidner grant was issued in 1750.

The County of Tryon was organized in 1769 and it was these people who settled west of the Catawba, and those who came with them, who laid the foundation upon which we have builded and it is their history that we would preserve.

North Carolinians have always been modest--see our motto, "To be, rather than seem to be," but we should want to know where we came from and what were the characteristics of our forebears.

The pioneer settlers of this section were hardy and brave. Those who crossed the Catawba found no shelter but a wintry sky and cold stars looked down pitilessly upon them as the howling wolves serenaded them through lonely nights.

The primitive life of these pioneers in the wilderness and the privations and perils they were to endure developed in them a spirit of manly independence and self-reliance. The original settlers were in the main plain people, honest conscientious and religious.

On their journey from the far north or overseas they brought meager supplies for they had only pack horses and when they settled west of the Catawba, the cabins were built without nails, the cracks were daubed with mud, split slabs were used for roofing with stones to weight them down lest the roof be torn away by storm and wind, the doors secured by wooden hinges and there was no glass for the windows. The houses were built in valleys close to the spring. They sawed down the forests, built rail fences to protect crops from cattle and hogs, worked through long days and kept watch by night against prowling savages.

On the frontier, neighbors learned the meaning of neighborliness--log rollings, house raisings, corn shuckings and quilting parties.

Some became blacksmiths, carpentars, cabinet makers, tanners, shoemakers, saddlers, tailors, hatters, skilled workers in iron. They used honey or sorghum for sugar, parched rye for coffee, ashes and waste grease converted into soap. Corn and wheat were ground by hand.

They brought the church with them and never lost the habit of worship and having a radiant faith.

Chapter II
1759--1774

1768--The Colonial Assembly of N. C. in 1768 created a new county out of that part of Mecklenburg west of the Catawba River and South of the Earl of Granville line and named it Tryon County in honor of William Tryon who had been appointed Governor of the Province by the British Crown.

December 12, 1768--From a letter of Gov. Tryon to Lord Hillsborough: "If S. C. boundary line be changed as suggested, the South government boundary would take from this province, independent of what it would rob from Earl Granville's district, a tract of country, now Tryon County, of 45 miles in breadth, due North and South and 80 miles due East and West, it having been found that distance, from Catawba River to the Western boundary line, which was run last year between the Cherokee hunting grounds and this province." C. R. Vol. 7.

1768--That all taxes in the following counties: Anson, Mecklenburg, Orange, Rowan and Tryon be paid as in other counties of the province, and warehouses shall be erected in same--C. R. 8-XVI.

1769--The Assembly appointed Thomas Neil, Henry Clark, William Yancey, Daniel Warlick, Jacob Forney, John Gordon and William Watson, Commissioners to contract for the building of court house, prison and stocks for Tryon County and to levy a tax of two shillings on each taxable poll to meet this expense.

From Records in office of Secretary of State--Page 14

1769--At a council held at Newbern, Nov. 10, 1769, it was ordered that the following be added to the Commission of Peace and dedimus for Tryon County: John Robeson, Francis Adams, George Blanton, John Thomas, Robert Ewart, Robert Blackburn, James McIntyre and Timothy Riggs, and that the chairman of the County Court be directed to insert the names of the several gentlemen above mentioned in the Commission of Peace and Dedimus in open court in the order they now stand.

1778--William Graham was the Senator and William Gilbert and Joseph Hardin, assemblymen from Tryon County.

1778--At the next session of the Assembly--Tryon County was abolished and the Counties of Lincoln and Rutherford erected out of Tryon territory.

Benjamin Hardin and others appointed as Commissioners to run dividing line between new counties and to lay off site for court house, jail and stocks.

The fines of discontent among the people of the west began prior to 1773 and in August 1775 (see above) patriotic citizens of Tryon County assembled at Tryon Court House and adopted resolutions. This spirit grew throughout the Colony until April 1776 the people of N. C. in Convention assembled at Halifax, declared themselves independent of British rule and joined the other colonies in the war for complete independence. The name of William Tryon, the Royal Governor, was held in derision and in 1778 the Assembly abolished the County of Tryon which bore his name and established in place 2 new counties, Lincoln and Rutherford. C. R. 16-707

The original Wills and Deeds and the County Court Minutes all began in 1769 for Tryon and 1779 for Lincoln County.

The first United States census was in 1790. The census was taken by the Militia districts (now called townships) 12 in number, covering the country which then embraced the present counties of Catawba, Graham, Lincoln and half of Cleveland County.

CLEVELAND COUNTY--1841

On January 11, the General Assembly finally passed the bill signed by Andrew Joyner, Speaker of the Senate, and Robert B. Gilham, Speaker of the House of Commons, creating the County of Cleveland from parts of Rutherford and Lincoln Counties. It was named in honor of Benjamin Cleveland, a brave soldier of the Revolution, who took part in the Battle of Kings Mountain Oct. 7, 1780. The bill reads that "Cleveland County is to be composed of parts of the counties of Rutherford and Lincoln beginning at a point in the S. C. line and running a north course so as to tap within 14 miles east of Rutherfordton until it strikes the Burke County line: thence with a dividing line of Burke and Rutherford to the Lincoln line: thence to the 13 mile post on the Lucas Ford road leading from Rutherford to Lincolnton: thence to the 12-mile post leading from Lincolnton to Quinn's ferry: thence to the 12-mile post leading from Morganton to Yorkville (S.C.): thence with the road tapping Abernethy's store by the Gold Mine at Kings Mountain to the South Carolina line, then with it to the beginning.

The bill provided also that "Robert H. Burton, Alexander McCorkle, Henry , Eli Hoyle, Ed Bryant, Achilles Durham, John McDowell, Samuel Andrews and David Gray, be a committee to designate some point in said county of Cleveland, not more than four miles from Thomas Wilson's Mineral Springs (now Cleveland Springs) which shall be the county seat of said county," and the site of the present town of Shelby (named for Isaac Shelby, another hero of Kings Mountain) was selected for the county seat, by the aforesaid commissioners to locate same.

The Roster of Soldiers from North Carolina during the American Revolution.

Published in 1933 by the N. C. DAR contain the following list of Lincoln County men who were soldiers of the Revolution.

Gaston County (then Lincoln) soldiers who fought at Kings Mountain

27. Capt. Isaac White (Draper 476)	(Grandpa Webb's mother
28. Lt. James White (Draper 476)	was a Miss White)

Due to the fact that many were called temporarily into military service from civil life, to resist invasion of the enemy, and after the battle returned to private pursuits, with no record kept of their service, it is easy to understand how the sacrifice made by many brave patriots were forgotten or unrecorded. The above list was taken largely from pension rolls ( by the DAR) and is correct, even though it does not give the name of any Lincoln County soldier who lived through the war, nor the great number who were slain in battle.

John Hoyle, youngest son of Peter Hoyle, the pioneer served as Lt. under Col. against the Indians and was a gallant soldier of the Revolution. The John Hoyle Chapter of the DAR of Hickory, N. C. was named in his honor and a large number of members of that chapter are his lineal descendants yet he and many more were not on the pension rolls.

November 27, 1825-----James Love bought 300 acres paying $500
from Ben Magness (Part of Perry gren Magness

December 3, 1832-----100 acres from Charles Love "in consideration of the natural affection he has for son James

January 5, 1827-----40 acres for $80 from David Covington

November 20, 1832-----300 acres for $300 from Samuel Espey of Lincoln County

December 14, 1837-----54 acres for $79 from Roberts and Barnet
